

Consulting & IT-solutions for liberalised energy markets

Wellcome on the HAKOM site!

HAKOM is in some highly specific segments of EDM (energy data management) the unrivalled market leader in Austria and a successful player in Germany and the Emerging Markets

Since 1991 the Viennese enterprise has developed innovative and productive software solutions for the liberalised energy market and successfully supported its customers in their individual business processes.

The two founders of the company DI Thomas Hasleder and DI Stefan Komornyik have gradually developed their enterprise into an independent special provider in the EDM segment. The applications were already developed in the 90ies on the basis of directive platforms and have been continually developed and optimised.

The HAKOM framework stands for over 15 years of inside knowhow. On the basis of standard components the Framework caters for special demands in the fields of trade, grid, production and distribution in the shortest possible time.
